Britain's Air Speed "Ace" Crashes in Schneider Plane.

S-6 B Sinks off Calshot.

Stainforth's Escape.

A SUDDEN SKID.

London, Sept. 16. Flight Lieutenant Stainforth, Britain's air speed "ace", met with a mishap this afternoon, in the Vickers Supermarine Rolls-Royce S-6 B in which, on Sunday, he created a new world's air speed record of 379 miles an hour.

The seaplane has sunk in eight fathoms of water and a buoy has been placed to mark the spot. Lieutenant Stainforth had a very narrow escape, and it is regarded as remarkable that the consequences of the crash were not more serious.

The accident occurred after Lieut. Stainforth had carried out a practice flight in the machine. A new air screw had been fitted to the machine and the flight was made primarily to test the screw.

After half an hour in the air, he was about to make an apparently perfect landing when, for no clear reason, the machine suddenly skidded and capsized.

Lieut. Stainforth was trapped in the cockpit, but he managed to free himself, scrambled out and clambered on to one of the floats, from which he was taken off by a motor-boat.

He sustained a few bruises only. The plane, intact, sunk, and salvage efforts are to be made in the morning.

No Alteration of Plans.

It is understood that the mishap will in no way affect the new attempt on the speed record, which Stainforth is to make as soon as the specially tuned Rolls-Royce engine reaches Calshot and can be fitted to the other Schneider S-6 B, in which Flight Lieut. Boothman captured the Trophy.—British Wireless.

BELIZE DISASTER DEATH-ROLL.

NOW ESTIMATED AT A THOUSAND.

London, Sept. 16.

A telegram received by the Colonial Office from the Governor of British Honduras regarding the Belize disaster reports that the situation is well in hand, and estimates the total deaths at about 1,000. Medical and personal supplies are adequate.

The people have shown an excellent spirit, and it was not necessary to declare martial law.—British Wireless.

STARTLING SHANGHAI 'WAR' RUMOUR

JAPAN SAID TO BE MOBILISING.

THE NAKAMURA INCIDENT.

(Our Own Correspondent).

Shanghai, Sept. 17. Persistent rumours that the Japanese Government is secretly mobilising troops, preparatory to moving against Manchuria in connexion with the Nakamura incident, has caused almost a panic in the gold bar exchange.

Japanese are responsible for very heavy selling of gold bars, in anticipation of a drop directly the military situation becomes known.

Nanking, Sept. 16. Interviewed by Japanese Journalists, Dr. C. T. Wang said that the Nakamura incident would be adjusted in a just manner. When the investigations are completed and allegations corroborated, the culprits would be punished according to Chinese laws.

The disappearance of Nakamura, if true, would be similar to the unfortunate disappearance of other persons travelling in any country. Therefore, the reported nation-wide indignation in Japan over Nakamura's disappearance is inexplicable to the Chinese people.

Dr. Wang regretted that he had been misquoted when previously asked if the Waichow had information about the incident. He

Local Tax Increases.

Tobacco and Petrol.

Increases in the tobacco and petrol duties, announced this morning to take effect immediately, have been ordered by His Excellency the Governor under the Public Revenue Protection Ordinance.

There is a new impost upon spirituous liquors other than intoxicating liquors at the rate of $10 per gallon. This embraces perfumed spirits, medicated spirits, toilet preparations, containing more than 10 per cent. of alcohol.

The petrol tax is increased from 15 cents to 25 cents per gallon.

The duty on cigars is increased from $1.50 to $2.00; on cigarettes from 75 cents to 90 cents, and on other manufactured tobacco, 75 cents to 90 cents.

On stripped and unstripped tobaccos, the duties are increased approximately by 40 per cent.

Pacific Fliers Found Alive After Eleven Days.

Moyle's Dramatic Message to Fiancee: On Uninhabited Island.

Seattle, Sept. 16.

The greatest excitement has been created by a report from one of the coastguard cutters in the Aleutian Islands region, that Don Moyle and Cecil Allen, the American aviators who left Tokyo on September 5 on a trans-Pacific flight and had been given up for lost, have been found.

They had been missing for eleven days and the search had latterly been continued without any confidence in the possibility of finding them alive.

The latest information shows that Moyle and Allen were found safe and unhurt on an uninhabited island in Olyutorski Gulf, north of Kamchatka. They had covered about 2,000 miles when forced to descend.

Message to Fiancee.

A most dramatic message from the fliers, addressed to Miss Frances Brison, Moyle's fiancee, has reached the Naval Radio Station at St. Paul Island, as follows:

"Landed on an uninhabited island. Everything all right."

Miss Brison, who had refused for days to believe that her fiance was lost, gave up hope yesterday. To-day, when news of his safety was received, she broke down.—Reuter and British Wireless.

ULTIMATUM TO ADMIRALTY. Discontent Spreads to Army and Police.

REVISION DEMANDS BY LOWER DECK.

"WE.....SHALL REFUSE TO SERVE UNDER NEW RATES."

ATLANTIC FLEET SHIPS MOVE TO HOME PORTS.

THE DISSATISFACTION in the Royal Navy over heavy reductions in pay is spreading to the Army and Police, according to latest cables from London.

The sensation of the day, however, is the publication of a letter written on behalf of the men of the Lower Deck, who describe themselves as "loyal subjects of His Majesty the King," and addressed to the Admiralty, moderate in tone in some respects, but amounting to an ultimatum. The letter asked for amendment to the drastic cuts in the pay of the lowest paid men of the Lower Deck, declaring

"UNLESS A GUARANTEED WRITTEN AGREEMENT IS RECEIVED FROM THE ADMIRALTY, CONFIRMED BY PARLIAMENT, STATING THAT OUR PAY WILL BE REVISED, WE SHALL STILL REMAIN AS ONE UNIT REFUSING TO SERVE UNDER THE NEW RATES OF PAY."

The letter concludes by saying that the men are quite agreeable to accepting a cut which they consider reasonable.

LONG ADMIRALTY STATEMENT.

London, Sept. 17. According to the Daily Herald, when a special meeting of the Cabinet was held at the House of Commons last evening to discuss the situation at Invergordon and other naval stations, their attention was drawn to the fact that dissatisfaction has spread to the Army and the police.

The Cabinet considered the Lower Deck "ultimatum" in the House of Commons. Sir Austen Chamberlain, the First Lord of the Admiralty, announced that the ships of the Atlantic Fleet had been directed to proceed to their home ports forthwith.

Investigations will then be made by the Commander-in-Chief and representatives of the Admiralty, in those cases of cases in which it is alleged that the reductions press exceptionally on those concerned. The Government has authorised the Board of the Admiralty to make proposals for alleviating such hardships.

Reports from Invergordon indicate that the best possible spirit prevails and the results of their representations are awaited calmly.

It now appears that there is no truth in the report that a cut of fifty per cent. in separation allowances is contemplated by the Admiralty.

It is officially stated that no direct cuts are being made, but slight incidental readjustments may be necessary.

The Invergordon correspondent of the Star says that the men of H.M.S. Rodney declined yesterday to man the picket boats, but feel ing-between the officers and men is very good.

Conditions remain normal at Chatham, Portsmouth, and Devonport. The Admiralty conference, attended by Sir Charles Madden (First Sea Lord—photo on right) and Rear-Admiral Colvin, lasted for four hours.

Suggestions of passive resistance to orders by the men of the Atlantic Fleet were dispelled yesterday evening after the Admiralty announcement that cases of hardship would be considered without delay.

Watched by a large crowd from the piers, all ships sailed from Invergordon for their home ports very quietly.

There was a little delay before sailing until an assurance was given that home ports were their destination in each case and that there was no possibility of the ships being redirected to distant stations after sailing.

A long Admiralty statement says that the allegation that the men of the Lower Deck have been asked to submit to a cut of twenty-five per cent. is unjustified. The statement gives various examples showing that the cuts amount to thirteen, ten and seven per cent.

Stress is laid on the fact that similar cuts are being made in the Army and the Royal Air Force and that such reduced pay already applies to all men who entered any of the three services after October, 1925.

It is therefore, actually being paid to twenty-five per cent. of the men in the Royal Navy and a larger proportion in the Army and Air Force. The Admiralty realises that men who married before reaching the age at which marriage allowance

Jack at play. Although the Lower Deck is vigorous in its protests against reductions in pay, their normal good humour and readiness for fun has not disappeared.

PARLIAMENT. NEW TAXES PASSED.

The Premier's Promise.

USING UP CREDITS

London, Sept. 16.

The House of Commons to-day approved the increased taxes on tobacco and petrol.

The attendance was smaller than has been usual in the last few days, but the Government majority in the divisions was steady.

Mr. Snowden moved a resolution amending the law relating to the National Debt, empowering the Treasury when circumstances are favourable to attack the huge block of £2,000,000,000 of Five Per Cent. War Loan.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said he was seeking special legislative powers because the conversion was exceptional, but it did not mean that all powers could be exercised. The resolution was adopted by 274 votes to 187.

At question-time, the Prime Minister said the Government were considering cases of peculiarly great hardship resulting from the various economy measures. They were confident that these cases could be adjusted without materially affecting the Budget estimates.

Supporting Sterling.

It is stated in the New York Evening Post that Wall Street reports indicate that $80,000,000 from the recent credit of $200,000,000 to the British Treasury has already been used for the support of sterling owing to the fact that the French credits will not be available until Monday when £20,000,000 subscribed by the French public will be transferred to the British Treasury.

It is understood that no further drafts will be made upon the American credits until the French credits have been drawn upon to an equivalent amount.

Half Credits Used Up.

It is thus estimated that Great Britain has used about £325,000,000 of the £650,000,000 credits granted by the Federal Reserve Board, the Bank of France and American bankers.

A committee representing bankers of the United States has instructed Mr. Wiggin, chairman of the Chase National Bank, to accept the agreement with the Reichsbank and the Discount Bank in Berlin for the extension of outstanding short-term credits for six months.—Reuter.

When a Chinese came away from a West Point wharf yesterday, after taking delivery of two tubs, he was followed by Revenue Officer Ward to No. 21, Sai Woo Street, which was subsequently raided and the discovery made that the tubs secreted 280 lbs. of high-grade Chinese tobacco in specially-contrived false tops. The man was taken into custody, and charged before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning with being in possession of dutiable tobacco, and was fined $400, or three months hard labour.

H. SUTCLIFFE'S 3,000 RUNS.

30-YEAR RECORD BROKEN.

London, Sept. 16.

The last match of the cricket season—Champions v. The Rest—resulted in a draw, which perhaps is a fitting termination to Britain's worst summer for years.

The Rest made 124 in their first innings, Bowes taking four for sixteen, and Yorkshire replied with 209, to which Leyland contributed 96 not out. F. R. Brown took 5 for 44.

The Rest obtained 290 runs for 5 wickets and declared in their second innings, D. R. Jardine being responsible for 194, Yorkshire made 66 for 1.

By averaging 96.96 runs over forty-two innings, Herbert Sutcliffe established a record for an Englishman in first-class cricket, beating Major Poore's 91.23 for 40 Hampshire in 1899.

The best cricket average on record is that of Don Bradman who returned 88.66 during the last Australian tour.

Sutcliffe easily tops the averages, of course, second place being occupied by the Nawab of Pataudi, with D. R. Jardine, England's skipper, the Rev. J. H. Parsons, and Hendren, following.

Larwood 129 wickets at a cost of 1,553 runs, averaging 12.03.

RECEDING WATERS.

Hankow, Sept. 16.
The water mark to-day dropped below fifty feet, a rapid current of swirling water rushing through the streets to the river.

The higher parts of the city are now only ankle-deep, and most of the shops in the native city have reopened.

Where the water recedes, thick black slime covers everythink, and the stench is unbearable.

turned cold, and the refugees in the exposed camps are shivering.

More Donations Needed.

The Tung Wah Hospital Committee have issued a special appeal in connexion with the Yangtze floods. Contributions may be sent to the Tung Wah Hospital Yangtze Flood Fund, care of the Chairman, Tung Wah Hospital, and will be duly acknowledged in detail. The appeal follows:

"In view of the seriousness of the flood disaster in North China which has affected more than ten provinces, leaving the surviving millions in a most pitiful and wretchedly destitute
state, this Hospital has appropriated a sum of $30,000 from the surplus of the Flood Relief Fund for remittance to the affected areas for relief through channels which command the utmost confidence; and the present Directors have personally contributed what they could towards the Relief Fund that has been instituted. But as the areas affected are extensive and the disaster most serious, we are afraid that unless a very large sum of money is subscribed nothing much can be achieved. We therefore most earnestly appeal to the public to give what they can. Donations, which will be duly acknowledged, should be forwarded to this Hospital which will remit them to the affected areas without delay.

THE LATE MR. KAN FOON-CHANG.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD YESTERDAY.

A service in memory of the late
Mr. Kan Foon-chang was held in Hop Yat Hall, Bonham Road, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. Dr. S. Y.
Wong presided. He said:

We are assembled here this afternoon to do homage to one whom we all love and whom God loves no less. The late Mr. Kan Foon-chang was born on August 19, 1897 in Chung Shan District, Kwong Tung, and was educated in Hongkong and Tientsin. In 1919
he with several others founded the Chung Kwan Free School for poor children. For the school he collected over $3,000 and to the school he donated not only his energies but also a sum of $600.

Scarcely had he come of age than he was called upon to shoulder the responsibility of the family by the sudden death of his elder brother, the late Mr. Kan Young-chi who contributed his entire fortune of over six lakhs to the cause of republican freedom in China, to the utter ruin of the Kan family. From 1921, the year in which his brother died, to 1929,
the year in which his younger brother, Mr. Kan Yik-chow, his sister, Miss Kan Ching-yuen and Miss Kan Cheuk-kwong, and his nephew, Mr. Kan Mun-hin, all graduated with B. A. degrees from Chung Shan University, Canton,
the late Mr. Kan devoted his body and soul to the improvement of his family fortune in general and to the education of his brothers,
sisters and nephews in particular,
so much so that he, out of brotherly love, denied himself the blissful happiness of wedlock despite the many offers of marriage
from high quarters—a most self sacrificing act in these days of decadence for the ancient code of Chinese morals.

He was in 1923 Harbour-master
of Chung Shan District; in 1924
Commissioner of Nam Kwong
Customs, Ying Tak District; in 1926 Inspector-General of Pak
Shok Salt Fields, Pak Ho; in 1927
High Commissioner of Fang Yang
Customs, Anhwei; and at the time of his death Chief of the Revenue Department, Chung Shan District.

Such then are the plain facts of his life in bare outline. He was a champion of the fast-dying Chinese family tradition in its ancient spirit, a zealous supporter of mass education for poor children, a progressive member of educated officialdom in modern China. He has earned love and affection at home, a good name in the Ministry of Finance, and respect and esteem in the wide circle of his friends. Though his life has been cut short by the iron hand of Fate, yet his time on this dusty world of ours has been a record of no mean achievement, leaving behind the members of his family a deep sense of loss which murmurs that this is the most unkindest cut of all; and those who knew him a sad memory of a perfect gentleman charming in manners and address, polite to everybody on all occasions. His death has deprived Chark Kwan Free School of an unfailing director,
the Kan family a guardian at once sympathetic and just, and the Government of China a loyal servant.

Among those who sent memorial scrolls and flower wreaths were:
H. E. Chow Yung-nang, Dr. Lai

WOMEN'S WORLD

FOR OUR LADY READERS.

Some Victorian Fashions Recently Seen in Paris.

Frilly, ultra-feminine, almost Victorian are these new styles seen recently in France. At left is a sheer white lingerie gown worn with fitted velvet cell blue jacket outlined in white maribou. The white hat shown upper centre has a long, curling ostrich plume, and the one shown below is decorated with black tips. At right is a flowered pink organdie chiffon with lace muff to match.

NEW FASHIONS.

Need Lovely Shoulders.

That Victorian off-the-shoulder line for evening gowns, which is among the sensational mid-autumn fashion secrets recently divulged in the Daily Mail creates a problem for the beauty experts.

Women are faced with the necessity of transforming their tanned and frequently too thin necks and shoulders into the sloping but beautifully rounded, smooth contours of last century. That white line across the shoulder where the bathing dress kept off the tan will not be hidden by a convenient shoulder strap in many of the new models.

The first step in this transformation is a critical "close-up" in one's own mirror, with a hand-glass to give a full-back view. Here are the four most common defects of the upper arms and neck, and a beauty expert's advice on how to deal with them.

Discolouration.

The upper arm, now all-important, tans more deeply than almost any other part of the skin, for the sun beats straight down on it—and the skin is unusually sensitive to exposure. By contrast the strip of flesh protected by the shoulder strap of the bathing dress is dazzlingly white.

If bleaching treatments cannot be conveniently taken, use a bleaching cream at home. One has been specially prepared to stimulate and clear the skin as well as bleach it, and is therefore unusually rejuvenating.

Too Fleishy Shoulders.

The sloping shoulders of the Victorian beauty were rounded but never fat. So special arm and breathing exercises will be taught to cure this defect, combined with advice on keeping the back straight and the shoulders down. A reducing lotion should be massaged in before the exercises are done.

Necks that are scraggy, prominent collar-bones, and hollow shoulders are as untrue to our new style as the last defect mentioned. Again breathing exercises are good. Work in a very rich cream at night—one is made which contains the most fattening oils.

Memorises.

This perennial problem is as urgent with the new fashions as with yesterday's. Adopt a lighter diet, wash very thoroughly, producing friction with the towel, and use an antiseptic lotion.

Women who are unable to visit their beauty salon to learn measurements and a description of themselves to a beauty specialist, who then sends them a specially drawn up series of exercises. Once these defects are corrected, one will be able to wear the Victorian evening gown with confidence. But pay careful attention to the make-up of neck and shoulders before dressing.

It is essential to get a smooth, creamy surface, although the actual colour may vary a little according to shade.

For Make-up.

Two preparations are recommended by a specialist. One is a liquid powder with an oily base, which gives a smooth, creamy effect. It is ivory in colour. The second is a cream similar to one used for the face. It is moisture-proof and consequently gives a matt surface, which remains throughout the evening. It is made in pink, rachel, white, and brown; rachel being the most becoming.

ICES.

For Your Bridge Party.

Strawberry Ice.

Heat one pint of milk and one pint of cream to boiling point, stir in half a pound of sugar, and set aside to cool. Mash one quart of strawberries with another half pound of sugar, and strain through coarse muslin. When the milk is quite cold add this juice to it, together with the well-beaten white of one egg, and freeze. If more colour is desired, add a few drops of carmine.

Lemon Ice.

Peel two lemons thinly and boil the rind, six ounces of sugar and half a pint of water gently for five minutes, adding the juice of the lemons. When cold, strain, whip up half a pint of double cream, add the lemon water to this, stir well together, and freeze.

Banana Ice.

Rub five ripe bananas through a sieve, adding the juice of half a lemon and sugar to sweeten. Pour this into one pint of cream, with one tablespoonful of liqueur, stirring all well together, and freeze.

Cherry Ice.

Remove the stalks of 3lb. of ripe and juicy cherries, (or tinned will be just as suitable) wipe with a clean cloth, and stone them. Pound a few at a time and rub through a fine sieve. Add a pint of custard and the strained juice of two lemons to the cherry pulp, and sweeten to taste. Whip half a pint of cream and stir this in lightly, flavouring with noney or a few drops of almond essence. Add a few of the cherry kernels blanched and chopped, colouring, if necessary with a little carmine, and freeze.

WATER LEVELS.

DETAILS FOR WEST, NORTH AND EAST RIVERS.

The following table, issued by the Kwangtung River Conservancy Commission, shows in English feet the water levels on the West River, North River and East River on the dates named:

	Sept. 15.	Sept. 16.
West River at Shouling	12.3	12.6
North River at Samshui	10.8	9.8
North River at Tsingyuen	10.0	10.0
East River at Shiklung	11.0	11.3
The highest levels recorded are:
Shiklung, 41 feet; Tsingyuen, 22.2 feet; Samshui, 27.3 feet; Shiklung, 11.5 feet.
The lowest levels on record are minus 5 feet at Samshui and minus 2.7 feet at Shiklung.

THE GOLD PROBLEM.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that the world depression
which is causing so much concern to practically all countries is primarily a monetary problem. That fact is slowly but surely impressing itself on statesmen and business men everywhere. It is easy to talk of restoring Britain's adverse balance of trade, as some of the Protectionists at Home are doing, by instituting a tariff, but the problem is not quite so simple of adjustment as that. As Mr.
Snowden points out, a tariff to have that effect would have to be prohibitory and would therefore produce no revenue. The emergency tariff idea is exploded by the assertion that a tariff, once put on,
remains; it therefore ceases to be an emergency tariff. But an even more effective submission than these is the fact that nations with tariffs are being just as badly hit just now as those with none. It is obvious, therefore, that tariffs of themselves cannot remedy the present situation.

In the House of Commons debate
on Tuesday, we had the spectacle of Mr. Churchill, who, more than any other man was responsible for Britain reverting to the gold standard, pleading for a world conference on the gold situation. He would seem now to have very serious doubts whether the policy
which he adumbrated was a wise
one, but he appears to cover his tracks by suggesting that the artificial and abnormal distribution of gold in the past few years has created a new position. We can afford, however, to put on one side
Mr. Churchill's inconsistencies.
The main thing is that there is a growing volume of opinion in favour of going to the root of the world problem by looking into the operation of the present monetary system. It is common knowledge that the United States and France

have absorbed practically all the gold, but their reserves have become sterilised. They no longer serve as the basis of credit; they are, for all intents and purposes, useless. On this point, Mr. Churchill was right when he asserted that unless all the countries of the world can either utilise gold for the function which it has hitherto discharged, or can devise some new index of exchange, the continued fall of prices and the destruction of credit will reduce civilisation to a breakdown and to ferocious barbarism. It is on this ground that the plan is made for an international conference on the gold question. What must strike the layman as difficult to understand is why there should be so much hesitancy over calling such a conference. Mr. Snowden's attitude on this is identical with the stand he took on the silver problem—the Government will be happy to attend a conference if one is held. Other nations have similarly reacted to the suggestion. Surely nothing would be lost, but everything gained,
by an international examination of the whole question. If we can have world conferences on disarmament and such issues, why not on the gold problem? The mere calling of the gathering
would not commit any nation.

The more the situation is looked into, the greater does the necessity appear of boldly grappling with the problem. There has latterly been a decided revival of interest in bimetalism as the most promising solution. Certainly there is much to be said for international action along these lines. The fixing of a definite ratio between silver and gold, with an enhancement of the value of the former metal, would without the least doubt increase the purchasing power of a big proportion of the people of the world. This in turn must open up trade, in the manifest advantage of everybody.
Here at any rate we have one definite proposal which is well worth analysing. Many leading bankers and economists are now supporting the movement. Eventually by mere force of circumstance it may come into its own.

Naval Pay Dissatisfaction.

It is difficult to withhold a measure of sympathy for the men of the Royal Navy, who find themselves unable to accept heavy cuts
in their pay without a word of protest. The avowed policy of the National Government in formulating their economy measures was equality of sacrifice. Naval ratings have been asked to accept reductions varying from nine-pence to a shilling a day. This represents a very serious cut. In some instances the lower grade ratings are asked to contribute to the saving of sterling by accepting pay of 12/3 to 14/-, less than the workless workshy. The naval authorities in Hongkong
state that the majority of the ratings on the China Station have accepted the reductions philosophically, and this being the case, they are to be congratulated. The reduction ordered is one requiring a deep philosophy to stifle feelings of dissatisfaction. It is, in fact, a notable tribute to the inherent loyalty of the bluejacket that the only serious development hitherto has occurred among some men of the Atlantic Fleet. Their protests have resulted in a cancellation of the programme of manoeuvres, pending an investigation into representations of hardship. Even in the Atlantic Fleet, it needs to be emphasised, there has been no disruption of a breakdown of discipline in any way whatsoever.
The men feel they have a grievance,
have voiced their grievance in the proper quarters, and are good-humouredly awaiting the sequel to their representations. Genuine cases of hardship must exist in the circumstances.
It is inconceivable that their claims will not receive earnest consideration. For the others, we feel sure that, however disgruntled
they may feel at the moment, they will soon return to the attitude of mind which has earned for them
the description of "the Jolly Jack Tar."

IMPATIENCE DRIES THE BLOOD
SOONER THAN AGE OR SORROW.—
Green.

The P. and O. s.s. Soudan, from Shanghai, is due here via Keelung on Saturday morning.

A man named Chan Chin, who was said to have spent only six months
out of prison since 1928, was sentenced to 12 months' hard labour by Mr.
Fraser at the Kowloon Magistracy
this morning for returning from banishment before his term of 10 years.

The arrival of a shipment of English
fresh fruits and vegetables to-day, brought out in cold storage, makes an experiment which will be watched by local residents with interest, for, if successful, regular supplies will be imported. Messrs. Lane, Crawford, Ltd. and Mac's Cafeteria are the distributing agents.

A 14-year old boy was fined $200,
or one month's imprisonment, in addition to 12 strokes of the cane, by Mr. Fraser, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, for unlawful possession of a quantity of opium.
Defendant said he had been given 20 cents to carry the drug, which was found tied to his waist.

Two cases of attempted suicide, by the victims taking opium, came to the notice of the police yesterday, with the removal to the Government Civil Hospital of two Chinese from different boarding houses in the city.
Both are young men and appear to have arrived in the Colony recently in destitute circumstances.

The Asiatic Petroleum Co. (S.S.C.), Ltd., write us in regard to yesterday's report of a case concerning the discovery of three rifles at their North Point installation. They state that the arms were found by their Installation Manager, and that the ex-employee referred to in the case has not sailed for Home, although he has left the Colony. It is added that the head storekeeper was not dismissed,
but had resigned from the Company's service. In explanation, we have to state that the statements alluded to were made by a police officer during the hearing of the case.

HONGKONG BANK REBUILDING.

PLANS NOT DEFINITE AS YET.

While admitting that the question of remodelling the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank building had been under consideration for some time, Bank authorities this morning declared that reports in the vernacular press were not quite correct in all their particulars.
Officials said that some few months ago it was decided to renovate and rebuild the Bank building shortly, but no definite time had been set down for the beginning of the task. That the work would be begun next year was improbable, as the Bank's architects, Messrs. Palmer and Turner, had not yet been instructed to make a survey of the building preparatory to drawing plans of the proposed alterations.
In addition, nothing definite has been decided on the amount to be allocated to the work or what arrangements would be made
while the building is under reconstruction.

The Pound and the Franc.

By HUBERT PHILLIPS.

MY article on the gold standard has produced a considerable crop of queries. I propose, therefore to deal with some of the more important of the points that have been raised.

Gold Standard Countries.

To begin with, I am asked what countries are to-day actually on the gold standard. The answer is: practically all the great trading nations of the world. Not only Britain, but the U.S.A., Canada, South Africa, and all the States of Europe (except Spain, Turkey, Jugo-Slavia and Russia)
are gold standard countries.

The fact that most of them, like ourselves, use paper currency for internal purposes, is of course, irrelevant.

Exceptions—and Why.

Notable exceptions are Australia, Argentina, Chile, Brazil, which have been forced off the gold standard through incapacity
to meet their liabilities.

These are all "debtor" countries, i.e. countries largely financed by foreign capital, the interest on which has to be paid out of what they produce; and they have failed to make ends meet because their products are to-day seriously undervalued as against the products of the countries that lend them money. This is a major cause of economic dislocation.

Most of the world's currencies,
then, are gold standard currencies; but most of them also,
since the war, have undergone reconstruction. Indeed, Britain and America are, I believe, the only belligerent countries whose currencies successfully withstood the onset of the war and its aftermath.

France After the War.

Take for example the case of France, whose economic position I propose to discuss in some detail.
France, like most other belligerents, came out of the war insolvent. She was pushed, by force of circumstances, so far along the perilous path of inflation that she could not hack her way back.
She was compelled, that is, to meet
her national liabilities by printing paper money, which—as, of course, always happens—diminished in value as it increased in bulk.

Finally, in 1926, when it looked as though the franc was going the way of the mark (which, as everyone knows, collapsed altogether, reducing Germany to economic chaos), a desperate effort was made to stabilise the position.
France returned to the gold standard, and a stable currency—
stable, that is, in terms of other currencies—but on a basis of 124.2
francs to the pound sterling instead of 25.2 francs as before the war.

In other words, she went into voluntary liquidation, declaring a dividend of approximately four shillings in the pound.

And now for some of my readers' queries. Three special difficulties in regard to France appear to present themselves.

First, how comes it that a country which came out of the war insolvent and, in addition, has had remitted the bulk of her debt to Britain, is lending us money now?

Secondly, how comes it that this same country has amassed enormous stocks of gold—amounting, at present, to some £470,000,000?

Thirdly, why, since France appears to have made such a good thing of her bankruptcy, should we not follow her example, and devalue the pound as France de-valued the franc?

I will take these points in order.

How comes it that France is helping at this juncture to underpin British credit? Does it mean that she is, after all, a wealthier country than Britain is?

Britain's Responsibilities.

By no means. The reason that France at this juncture has money to lend is that up to now, she has played comparatively little part in the business of international investment. Before the war Britain was far and away the most important of the world's "creditor"
countries.

The development of new countries like Australia, Malaya and the Argentine largely depended on our lending them the wherewithal
to purchase capital equipment.

Since the war America has to some extent taken Britain's place;
but our aggregate volume of overseas investments is still greater than hers.

But other countries—France
among them—have not played the part to which their resources entitle them in this business of announcing overseas investment.
Partly for political reasons, and partly because she is still unfamiliar with the appropriate technique, France has lagged behind; like the traditional peasant of her country-side, she has largely hoarded her wealth in a stocking instead of applying it to productive purposes.

The credits which she is now
providing for Britain represent,
in a sense, a call upon this stocking.

That Hoarded Gold.

To continue the metaphor, the enormous hoard of gold deposited in the Bank of France may be taken to represent this peasant's stocking. How did all this gold get there? Through the pursuit of a policy which, dictated by political considerations, is economically indefensible. This is the policy of promoting exports while endeavouring to shut imports out.

Gold has flown steadily into France as an inevitable consequence of this policy.

Reparations—the payment of which damaged both giver and receiver—have added their special difficulties to the operation of the general principle.

In my opinion, therefore, the accumulation of gold in France is not so much evidence of great economic strength as evidence of the pursuit of a mistaken economic policy. It has resulted in a distribution of the world's gold which is out of proportion to the distribution of financial responsibility.

The Twopenny Franc.

Now, finally, let me return to this question of devaluation. The devaluation of the French franc (i.e. the substitution of a two-penny franc for a tenpenny one) was inevitable. Her currency was wrecked in the post-war hurricane, and she salvaged as much as she could. She emerged, too, not irretrievably damaged, because her liabilities were in the main an internal problem.

The Integrity of Sterling.

Far different would have been the case if Britain had similarly sacrificed sterling.

Devaluation of the pound in 1926—when the return to the gold standard was made—would have had the gravest repercussions throughout the world's economic structure. Britain cannot think in terms of her industry alone, but must think also in terms of trade, investment, banking and insurance on an international scale.

It is for this reason that the mysterious entity called the "City"
speaks always with so much authority. The "City" does not—as the T.U.C. seems to suppose—mean a handful of stock-brokers.

It stands for a nation-wide network of activities upon the integrity of which the bases of our prosperity depend.

And if, in 1926, devaluation was not feasible, it is out of the question now. To tamper deliberately with the exchange value of sterling would be suicidal as an act of policy. The Report of the Macmillan Committee—wherein every shade of opinion is represented—lends unqualified support to this view.

IMPORTANT BANKRUPTCY POINT. EFFECT ON ACTION IN CHINA.

RULING WITHHELD.

An interesting point as to whether a Hongkong bankruptcy would debar action in China for recovery of debts came up for consideration in the Bankruptcy Court, this morning before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp). It arose out of an application on behalf of creditors for the rescission of the Receiving Order and withdrawal of the petition against Yan Kwai, trading as Yan Kwai Kee, No. 86, Temple Street, South, Yau-mat. His Lordship reserved his decision in the matter.

Mr. A. Covey and Mr. E. S. C. Brooks were for petitioning creditors. Mr. Covey explained that he appeared for some of the creditors with debts totalling $5,321.76. The application was for rescission of the Receiving Order and withdrawal of the petition but he would ask for an adjournment as his instructions had been received at short notice. He explained that he was not the only solicitor who had been instructed at short notice as there were other creditors who represented debts amounting to $2,000.

Mr. Brooks said he did not object.

Official Receiver Objects.

The Official Receiver, Mr. E. L. Agassiz, said he objected both to the application and an adjournment. The matter, he said, had been before creditors at two meetings and the position was rather curious. At a meeting of creditors on August 17 a resolution for adjournment was proposed by a petitioning creditor but there was no second. The remainder of the creditors desired that the Receiving Order should be rescinded and the petition withdrawn.

Mr. Agassiz continued: "On what grounds I don't know. I told them, on August 17, that I would adjourn the meeting until August 31 for further consideration of the matter. At the meeting on August 31 a resolution was passed by the creditors that an application be made to the Court to rescind the Receiving Order and withdraw the petition. "At that meeting I informed the creditors that the case would be put into the list for the next Court, today. I object in toto to this adjournment because creditors did not take the trouble to instruct solicitors until immediately before the case was due to come on."

No Good Reason.

His Lordship: I don't see any reason for rescission. The Official Receiver: I cannot conceive of any grounds and there are none as far as I can see.

His Lordship: Mr. Covey, I don't think it is a case for adjournment. It is of course, the fault of the creditors.

Mr. Covey:—Under these circumstances, with your consent, I propose to call one of my witnesses to show cause why the rescission should or should not be made.

This course was accepted and a witness stated that debtor owed him $923.85 for cement supplied. He said debtor's liabilities were about $17,000, and assets were approximately $1,720. The firm's property in China was worth about $7,000. Proceedings were being taken in China to recover.

His Lordship:—How do you know of these proceedings?—I know that because I myself, an attorney, am taking an action in China against this firm personally.

Reason Given.

Asked by Mr. Covey if he would give any reason why the Receiving Order should be rescinded and the petition withdrawn, witness said if debtor were adjudged bankrupt in Hongkong he would raise the defence, when sued in China, that witness ought to have got payment out of the Hongkong bankruptcy, and should not bring a separate action in China.

After pointing out that the proved debts so far were just over $15,000, the Official Receiver submitted that his Lordship had no power to grant the application. The only grounds possible were that the Receiving Order ought never to have been made, or that the debts had been paid in full, and, in the present case, neither of those grounds were applicable. Even assuming that Hongkong bankruptcy would debar proceedings in China which was not proved, that would not be a ground for granting the applications.

Debtor Absconded.

Mr. Agassiz added that debtor had absconded so as to get away

FROM BERLIN TO NANKING.

GERMAN FLIERS ARRIVE HERE NEXT WEEK.

STUDYING CONDITIONS.

With the intention of studying for himself, flying conditions throughout Central Asia and the Far East, the German aviator, Hans Bertram, is now flying from Berlin to Nanking, and he intends to visit Hongkong en route.

If he keeps to schedule, he will land at Kai Tak on Friday week, September 25.

Bertram, who is accompanied by Herr Schenker and a mechanic, left Berlin on September 1st in his privately-owned hydroplane, which is an F.13 type of Junker machine. He is not out to set up any speed record, but intends to study conditions generally.

The aviators are taking Asia Minor, Bagdad, Colombo, Calcutta, Rangoon, Singapore, Batavia, Bangkok, Saigon, Hanoi, Hongkong and Shanghai as their route to Nanking, where they expect to arrive in the early part of October.

In imposing a fine of $50 on a Chinese for trespassing on a Government Plantation at Aberdeen, where he had taken three children with him to cut firewood, Mr. Schofield, at the Central Police Court this morning, told the defendant that the next time he broke the law he should not take children with him. The children, who were also arrested, were cautioned.

from the bankruptcy and when he came back he (Mr. Agassiz) would consider taking out a warrant for his arrest.

His Lordship remarked that, in any case, the application was not in its proper form as, to consider it, he would have to have something more, such as some evidence regarding the position of other creditors.

Mr. Covey agreed and remarked that was why he wanted an adjournment.

His Lordship said:—"I should like to consider it as I am not prepared to dismiss it at the moment. If it were shown that the majority, or great majority, of creditors were in favour of rescission on reasonable grounds that the bankruptcy might act as a discharge and that they would, therefore, be unable to recover elsewhere debts they might be able to recover if no discharge took place, I am not prepared to say at the moment that it is not a good ground for granting rescission."

It would have to be proved, of course, that a substantial majority, at least, of the creditors were in favour of rescission. I should like to consider the question of power to rescind and the limits of that power and I will adjourn the case."

Other Cases.

In the case of Li Wai-tong, No. 52, Des Voeux Road Central, the Official Receiver said:—This is an adjourned public examination. Your Lordship will remember that the debtor gave very unsatisfactory evidence. I have considered whether it is possible to take this matter any further, either here or elsewhere, and I have come to the conclusion: a reluctant conclusion, that it is not. As far as I am concerned I appear to close the public examination.

His Lordship accordingly closed the examination.

Concerning an application for hearing of petition against Chang Cheuk-wan, No. 289, Queen's Road Central, factory manager, Mr. G. S. Hugh Jones asked for an adjournment. He explained that the debts owing were largely the debts of the firm of which he was a partner, and negotiations were afoot for the sale of the business as a going concern, in which case the debts of the firm would probably be arranged for.

The adjournment was granted.

Power to Sell Timber.

In the matter of the Tai Yuen Shing firm, timber merchants, No. 80, Connaught Road West, on an adjourned hearing of petition, the matter was again adjourned, power being given to the Official Receiver to sell certain timber in storage in the meantime. Mr. Mossop was for petitioning creditor.

An application by Mr. W. C. Huang for the release of a trustee in the matter of the Wa On Company, No. 254, Des Voeux Road Central, was granted.

A Receiving Order was made against the Cheong Yuen Firm, No. 56, Des Voeux Road West. Mr. F. C. E. Rendall was for a petitioning creditor, who stated that the debt amounted to $1,000.

The Official Receiver made a formal application for an order for adjudication in terms of respect of Kwong Nee-shing, No. 48a, Bonham Strand West, rice merchant. The application was granted.

LUXURIOUS NEW LINERS.

P. & O. CARTHAGE AND CORFU COMING.

MAGNIFICENT SHIPS.

Two new magnificent P. and O. liners are to be placed on the China run shortly, these being the Corfu and the Carthage. The former is due in Hongkong on her maiden voyage on November 20th and the latter on February 12th next year.

The new liners bring a new standard of beauty and modernity into Far Eastern travel. They are sister-ships of 14,500 tons, provided with every convenience which forethought and ingenuity have been able to contrive for the comfort or enjoyment of their passengers. There are spacious single and double bedrooms, some with a private bath, all exhibiting the thoughtful care of detail which passengers are accustomed to find in each succeeding addition to the P. and O. Fleet.

The ships possess superbly appointed lounges, foyers, dining rooms and smoking rooms. Besides two smaller verandahs, each ship has a spacious Verandah Cafe with an American Bar, an open-air swimming bath on deck, a laundry, a delightful children's nursery, and minor facilities for passengers travelling with young families.

All cabins have hot and cold running water and the latest systems of mechanical ventilation. Equally the second saloon presents in every particular a combination of elegance and practical comfort. The second-class public rooms are planned on much the same generous lines as are those of the first-class. The majority of the cabins are for the accommodation of two passengers, though three and four-berth cabins are available in sufficient numbers.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Building Authority Summons.

[To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.]

Sir:—Kindly allow to correct your report in the Hongkong Telegraph of yesterday with reference to a summons against the contractor in connexion with No. 3348 Queen's Road Central.

In the first place, the summons was not for failure to use fireproof material; it was only for work carried out without the approval of the Building Authority.

In the second place, although it is correct that permission for the contractor to commence work was held up for a period of two weeks after the expiration of the prescribed 28 days, the chief you refer to, was not a chief; it was an official letter from the Building Authority accompanied by a plan, which did not pass through my hands until a month later, Saturday the 12th inst., or three days after the first hearing of the case.

This fact I cannot account for. I wish I could. The allegation in your report that it was an office oversight is one that reflects adversely on the architect in the eyes of those who are not acquainted with the facts of the case, and one to which I most strenuously object.

Would you therefore kindly give this letter full publicity for the information of all concerned.

Yours, etc.

J. S. GIBSON.

6,000,000 HOSPITAL PATIENTS.

WHAT A YEAR'S WORK COSTS.

A million in-patients, and 5,000,000 out-patients are treated in London, provincial and Scottish hospitals in the year.

According to the "Hospitals Year Book," issued by the Hospitals Association and the Red Cross Society, there are:

1,002 voluntary hospitals, 73,186 beds.

The income of 931 hospitals containing 69,230 beds was £13,604,968, and the expenditure £12,646,947. It costs 84 per cent. more in London than in Scotland to maintain a hospital bed, and 61 per cent. more than in the provinces.

Concerning criticism of overcrowding, long hours of waiting and discomfort in out-patient departments, the opinion is expressed that the problem is not insoluble.

Road accident cases form a problem which is not yet solved. Only about ten per cent. of these cases are covered by third party insurance.

It is regretted that an addition was not made to the motor car licence by the Government as originally suggested.

Another matter to which criticism is directed is the refusal of successive governments to remit legacy duty.

HONGKONG SHARE MARKET.

OFFICIAL SUMMARY BY STOCK EXCHANGE.

The market this morning continued firm generally. Banks, which were dealt in at $2,045, closed in demand at $2,040. Cantonese were in request at $1,545. Unions had buyers $555, but no shares were procured.

ILK. Fries were wanted at $1,465, but nothing resulted. Wharves were also in request at yesterday's rate—$164.

Whampoa Docks were again wanted at $29.

Providents (old), after being done at $6½ and $6.60, could have been obtained at the latter rate. The new shares were the medium of sales at $1.20.

Hotels (old) were dealt in at $17.35 and $17.45, and closed in demand at $17½ with sellers asking $17½. The new shares were also done at $16.65, and terminated with buyers at $16.60 and sellers at $16.70.

Land were wanted at $90½; after sales at $90½.

Humphreys (old) were in demand at $22.

Realities, which were done at $17.35, could have been obtained at $17.40. Fives were in demand at the improved rate of $16, but shares were not forthcoming at this figure.

Shanghai Cottons were also in request at an advance of $2, the rate now being $106.

Zong Sing's were wanted at $12½. Trams had sellers asking $23½; but buyers did not go beyond $23½.

Star Ferries and Yau-mat Ferries were in demand at yesterday's quotations—$95½ and $26½, respectively. Electrics were put through at $82½. Telephones (part paid) were done at $35.

Cements (combined) advanced to $20.70 buyers, but sellers were in the market at $20.90.

Dairy Farms were in request at $22½.

Sinceres were wanted at $20, without shares being obtained.

Constructions, cum rights, had buyers at $14½, and the rights receded to $2.62½ nominal.

Local Rating's Complaint.

A naval rating, signing himself "Not Accepting the Reduction Philosophically," writes us as follows:

"The Lower Deck (and this applies especially to the Leading Rates and below) has been crippled by the unnecessarily drastic cut."

"What of the many men on the China Station who are trying to keep happy under the most exacting conditions—men looking forward to home and to being married, impossible now: men married but not old enough to draw the marriage allowance, whose wives now draw the princely sum of 21s. weekly? Many of these have lots of children. With the previous marriage allowance of 28s. a week, goodness knows it was bad enough—27s. maximum inclusive of marriage allowance."

"That's what we sweat for—few comforts, home but a thing to dream of. We have to feed ourselves on 7d. a day—not enough to buy tiffin on. Our clothing allowance and leave allowance has been cut a 1d. and 2d. respectively. Surely the men of the finest fighting Service in the world are entitled to a living wage, which is all we ask."

"Any able seaman will verify what I have said. On behalf of the Lower Deck, I ask the Colony of Hongkong to aid us all they can. Surely you all understand the position."

HARVEST RUINED.

FARMERS THREATS TO CLOSE DOWN.

Norwich, Aug. 21.

Mr. J. F. Wright, secretary of the Norfolk branch of the National Farmers' Union, states that owing to the recent storms harvest operations in the county have been brought to a standstill.

Outs that were cut three weeks ago are beginning to sprout, and where in consequence of the abnormal weather, cutting has been delayed much corn has shelled out. The heavy barleys have suffered a great deal and the ears have been bent over and will be cut off by the reaping machines. This will mean a reduced yield which some farmers estimate at as much as five sacks to the acre.

Several farmers have made deeds of assignment during the past week and the outlook for arable farming in the county is the blackest on record. The failure of the Government to declare themselves on the wheat question has caused intense disappointment, and everywhere farmers are threatening to eliminate wheat cultivation and partially close down their farms after the harvest.

FACTORY OWNER MURDERED.

Jewish Workers Consider Him Traitor to Sabbath.

Warsaw, Aug. 20.

The problems raised by Sunday rest in Poland have led to the murder of a manufacturer named Perlmutter in the town of Szczecinek.

The question of Sunday is particularly difficult in Poland owing to the presence of a Jewish community numbering over three millions, most of whose members follow or would like to follow strictly the rules of their religion with regard to observance of Saturday.

Since Sunday rest is legally enforced in Poland very much as in England, plus Jewish shopkeepers close for two days instead of one, while Jewish factory workers have generally to work on their Sabbath in order to complete a six-day week since the law does not allow a Sunday shift.

The question of Sabbath observance was raised in M. Perlmutter's factory, where both Jews and Christians were employed.

M. Perlmutter was ready to introduce a five-day week to satisfy both religions, but only with a five-day wage.

A delegation of Jewish workmen disapproved of the arrangement, demanding a six-day wage on the ground that they were ready to work on Sunday if allowed.

The negotiations became the more heated because the Jewish workers seemed to have seen in their employer, who belonged to their own religious community, a traitor to the cause they represented.

They fell upon him and he jumped out of the window and took refuge in a neighbouring public-house, where they pursued him and beat and stabbed him to death.

The China Light and Power Company advertises that the dates for the work at Leichikok and Cheung Sha Wan have been changed. The electricity supply will be cut off on Friday and Saturday.

Neither season's nor business conditions alter the stability of "Powell's" Tailoring. One buys there knowing that the price paid is the intrinsic value of the garment. Since we never hold so called sales, our prices are never inflated to provide a margin for later reductions. There is extremely gratifying evidence that the sanity and honesty of these principles have earned the approval of our customers.

WARNING.

Our attention has been drawn to a leaflet sent from Singapore purporting to advertise Wakefield Castrol motor oils and bearing the address of their Australian house in Brisbane. This leaflet has a double entente and is a crude attempt to bring into disrepute the house of Wakefield. Those who receive this leaflet will doubtless treat it with the contempt it deserves. Meanwhile we are making investigations as to the origin of this leaflet and any assistance from the public in this respect would be greatly appreciated.

INTERPORT TENNIS REFUSALS.

RUMJAHN CAN'T PLAY-- DOCTOR'S FIAT.

LO DOUBTFUL TOO.

Another disappointment in connexion with the forthcoming interport tennis contest between Shanghai and Hongkong at Shanghai next month is revealed this morning, writes "Netcord."

S. A. Rumjahn, who had been selected as Hongkong's No. 1 singles representative, has been advised by doctors that it is inadvisable for him to play tennis for at least another six weeks, owing to heart strain.

It is therefore practically certain that he will have to resign his position.

M. W. Lo, selected as No. 3 singles, created further anxiety for the harassed Selection Committee to-day, intimating that he may also be unable to accompany the team, which is now reduced to E. C. Fincher and Ho Ka-lau as the only certainties. It is hoped, however, that Lo will find himself in the position to play.

S. A. Rumjahn informed me that he first felt the effects of his strained heart while playing in exhibitions in Canton, when he collapsed on the court. Throughout last week-end he put in serious practice with E. C. Fincher in preparation for the interport, but after his games on Sunday, he again felt rather sick, and decided to obtain medical advice. The result was contained in two certificates, both of which found that he was suffering from a strained heart, and that it was necessary for him to rest from strenuous games for at least six weeks.

The position of the L.T.A. in consequence is rather acute, as both C. A. L. and H. D. Rumjahn have already refused to join the team, while neither Honda, A. L. Sullivan or Goldman are available. The Selection Committee will in all probability meet this afternoon to discuss the new difficulties, and there is just a possibility that they will find themselves unable to send a men's team to Shanghai.

The L. T. A. is determined to do its utmost to send a complete side, but unless something unexpected happens, the local side is bound to be weak and not truly representative of Hongkong tennis talent.

A Shanghai Team.

Although not officially confirmed by the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association, news has just reached the Colony that Shanghai has selected its team to meet Hongkong in the Interport Tennis contest in Shanghai next month.

The team suggested is:

Singles.

- No. 1. Tawara.
- No. 2. Duff.
- No. 3. Khoo Hooi-hye.

Doubles.

- No. 1. Canavaro and Tavares.
 - No. 2. Duff and Khoo.
- This morning, Mr. C. P. F. James, Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong L.T.A., said he had received no intimation from Shanghai as to the combination of the Northern team, and he was not in the position to confirm the side suggested above. There is a possibility that the local L.T.A. may protest against the inclusion of Khoo Hooi-hye, whose status is questioned somewhat.

EXHIBITION TENNIS.

HAZELL AND RUMJAHN TO VISIT CANTON.

Mr. D. H. Hazell, the Eastern Director of Messrs. William Sykes, Ltd., the English sports manufacturers, and C. A. L. Rumjahn, the local tennis champion, have been invited to play a series of exhibition tennis matches in Canton on Saturday and Sunday next.

Some good tennis is anticipated, particularly in view of Canton's victorious singles encounters with S. A. and H. D. Rumjahn recently. On Saturday, C. A. L. Rumjahn will play Leung, followed by a doubles match between Hazell and J. A. E. Cassumbhoy against G. Bodiker and Chan. Later, Hazell and Rumjahn will play Bodiker and Leung in a five sets match.

Bodiker and Rumjahn will be opposed in a singles encounter on Sunday, while Hazell and Cassumbhoy will meet Leung and Chan. In the afternoon, Hazell and Rumjahn will play a return five-sets match with Bodiker and Leung.

The Governor of Canton and Admiral Chan Chak have kindly consented to act as patrons, and the proceeds will be sent to Nanking in aid of the Hankow Flood Relief Fund.

LEAGUE TENNIS.

CHINESE R.C. WIN "B" DIVISION.

The Chinese Recreation Club yesterday defeated the University in their last match of the league tennis season, and have thus won the "B" Division championship of the league.

The University could only secure two of the nine sets at stake, and lost to a better-balanced combination. Scores:—

Yew Man-kit and Ho Ka-lau (C.R.C.) beat Dr. J. N. Anderson and Y. F. Chew 7-5; beat G. E. Yeoh and Y. K. Ng 7-5; beat F. Y. Khoo and T. K. Lien 6-3.

W. C. Hung and Chiu Chun-chiu (C.R.C.) beat Anderson and Chew 6-4; beat Yeoh and Ng 6-3; beat Khoo and Lien 6-2.

H. Lo and Lu Tak-cheuk (C.R.C.) beat Anderson and Chow 6-0; lost to Yeoh and Ng 5-7; lost to Khoo and Lien 3-6.

SPEY ROYAL CUP.

R. C. C. RINK VERSUS KOWLOON DOCK.

The Kowloon Cricket Club and Kowloon Docks, semi-finalists in the lawn bowls Spey Royal Cup competition will meet at the Club de Recreio on Sunday, at 3.30 p.m.

The R.C.C. will be represented by:—

H. Hampton

J. Gibson

J. Fraser

A. E. Silstone (skip).

How should one play a ball that has found a cuppy lie?

It is practically impossible for a player to insert the blade of the club beneath the ball cleanly without removing some of the soil behind the ball during the process, in which case only a little backspin can be imparted. When a mashie is used for this stroke, it is unwise to pitch the ball on the green. A risk must sometimes be taken and the ball pitched short of the green and allowed to run. The left hand should grip firmly and the ball should be driven out by the strength of the left arm. Do not attempt to nip it out of its bed lie with the right hand.

Do not open the face of the club on the backswing as in a club shot. The flight in this case will be lower.—ART KRENN

LOCAL FOOTBALL.

K.F.C. SECOND TEAM'S SUCCESS.

The Kowloon Football Club's 2nd XI entertained the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, second string in a friendly game last evening on the K.F.C. ground.

After a very fast first half, the Highlanders led by two to one, Gillott scoring for Kowloon. After the interval, Kowloon came more into the picture and delighted the spectators with some really nice football, goals being scored by Gillott (2), Cotton (2) and Noonan, whilst the Highlanders registered one. The final score was:—Kowloon, 6; Highlanders, 3.

ANOTHER RUGBY TEAM

K.B.S.F.P.A. TO FORM SIDE.

Hongkong is to have more Rugby competition during the coming winter, following the decision of the Kowloon British School Former Pupils' Association to form a team, and, promised good support, it expects no difficulty in being able to send out a side.

There was a good attendance at the first practice at King's Park last evening, when preliminary steps were taken in the formation of a team. A committee comprising J. J. Ferguson, F. Angus and G. C. Burnett has been appointed to carry out the early work, but office bearers will not be chosen until more practices have been held.

ANNUNCIA

Memorandum, 19th March, 1952.

FROM ENGLISH GROWERS

"The Drums of Jeopardy."

Outside the cursory surveillance of her diet and a normal amount of healthy exercise, Collier, who appears Tiffany's mystery story "The Drums of Jeopardy," does nothing to keep that perfectly proportioned and marvellously slender figure for which she is admired. It seems to be her nature to have the proper weight, and when an actress can eliminate from her horizon the bugbear of excess fat, she is happy!

"The Drums of Jeopardy," the attraction for next Sunday at the Central Theatre, features Warner Oland, Miss Collier and Lloyd Hughes. It is a picturization of Harold MacGrath's novel, directed by George B. Seitz and with a cast including Wallace MacDonald, George Fawcett, Mischa Auer, Hale Hamilton, Ernest Hilliard and Florence Lake.

CONDEMNED FREIGHTER WEATHERS BOMBS.

Anchored off Cape Henry, as a target for bombing practice by U. S. Army flyers the rusty old Shipping Board freighter Mount Shasta here is shown as she successfully rode out a shower of fifty 100 and 200 pound bombs. Only two of the bombs found their mark on the deck of the craft, and as this picture was taken one of them exploded astern. Officials have requested an explanation of the squadron's failure to sink the ship, which finally was sent to the bottom by shell fire from the Coastguard cutter Carrabassett.

"PRODUCE," NOT "REDUCE."

FAMED FIRM'S REMEDY FOR BAD TRADE.

Increase staffs and production, spend more money and intensify methods of salesmanship, is the remedy for fighting industrial depression put forward by Mr. Richard Haigh, Manager of the home trade branch of His Master's Voice Gramophone Company. People still have the money, he declared, but they are afraid to spend it.

Six months ago, Mr. Haigh continued, his firm launched an ambitious scheme, and, instead of dismissing part of their work-people and closing certain of their factories, decided to produce twice as much as they had ever done before, to increase their staffs and to keep their factories going day and night. "And I believe we are going to get away with it," he added.

If manufacturers would take their courage in both hands and meet the difficult times by a similar spirit of enterprise, Mr. Haigh believed that, by the end of 1931, we should be able to show a far more satisfactory industrial position than we could to-day.

The Gramophone Company, he said, were intensifying advertising and developing salesmanship by sending out "flying squads" into districts where radio-gramophones had never been heard.

Among the greatly extended range of models that are to be put on the market by the company in a few weeks' time is a radio-gramophone for 25 guineas, the cheapest previously having been 48 guineas. An interesting development is the automatic unit that can be attached to any wireless set working on a loud speaker, turning it into a gramophone playing any number of records up to eight and changing them automatically.

THIEF CRITICISES BORSTAL.

"A FAILURE EIGHT TIMES OUT OF TEN."

A young thief's criticism of the Borstal system was read at Westminster Police Court recently. Michael Kennedy, aged 23, was charged with having been found at 4 a.m. on the roof of a house in Wilton-road, S. W., and with stealing property from bed-rooms at the Wilton and Marine Hotels.

Kennedy, who is on licence from Borstal, pleaded guilty, and in a written statement said: "I was sentenced to three years Borstal in 1929 for a crime I didn't commit. I soon found some clever young crooks among my companions, and I picked up a few useful things that would help me when I was released. I might tell you, Sir, that Borstal is a failure eight times out of ten."

"Nothing is taught a young offender that would be any good to him, and so he finds himself a bigger rogue when he gets out. One has only to go to Dartmoor, Parkhurst, Maidstone, or even local prisons to find more ex-Borstal boys than any other class—which proves the system is a failure."

"After two years and two months I got my discharge and was found a job. But when I had paid my fares, &c., I only had 7s. to carry on with. I told the Borstal authorities and that I had turned the job in. They said my licence would be revoked if I carried on like that. Well, my money was gone and I had to eat, so I committed the thefts for which I await sentence. I plead for one more chance. If I had not been sent to Borstal I should have been leading an honest life to-day."

Mr. Gill sentenced Kennedy to 14 days' hard labour and said that at the expiration of the sentence he would be sent back to Borstal to complete the unexpired term.

Among the wreaths sent were those from Messrs. Gibb, Livingston, Dun, Fat & Co., Mrs. V. V. de Silva and family, Misses V. Lul, M. Lul, C. Kwok, Local Staff, Hongkong Electric Co., Mr. E. L. Groome, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Castro, Capt. and Mrs. A. Campbell and family, Mr. P. E. Barker, Mr. S. A. Arthur and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Abbas and family.

A Pleasure, indeed!

SEATTLE enjoys her trade with the Orient... which, incidentally, is on the increase, and growing every year. This port particularly enjoys the trade of the Orient, because her geographic position with regard to the Orient is unique (a saving of several days) pleasing shippers, exporters, manufacturers and American customers.

That is just one of the reasons why the tonnage of the Port of Seattle has increased by millions of tons per year over a 10-year period... that and the mammoth port facilities available thru the seven great public terminals... modern in every detail, of course! You save in transit time and you save in transit money when your goods arrive, for rates in the Port of Seattle are low.

Write for particulars... better, ship your NEXT shipment via Seattle!

BRITISH NAVAL UNREST.

ADMIRALTY DISCUSSES THE WHOLE AFFAIR.

ALLEVIATORY PLANS.

London, Sept. 16. There have been rapid developments to-day in the situation created by the promulgation of reduced rates of naval pay.

A conference was held at the Admiralty this morning between the First Lord, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Rear Admiral Colvin (of H.M.S. Nelson), Chief-of-Staff to Admiral Tomkinson (who is remaining at Invergordon), Sir Charles Madden, the First Sea Lord, and other members of the Board. Admiral Colvin explained the precise position at Invergordon, and a statement may be issued later.

Alleviation Promised.

Later. In the House of Commons this evening, Sir Austen Chamberlain stated that the Atlantic fleet ships had been ordered to proceed to their home ports forthwith, where the Commanders-in-Chief and the Admiralty will investigate the causes of cases allegedly involving hardship. The Government has authorised the Admiralty to propose alleviatory measures.

Reception by House.

The announcement was greeted with prolonged Labour cheers and Ministerialist taunts.

At the conclusion of the reply Sir Austen was subjected to a volley of questions, into which Mr. Ramsay MacDonald was drawn.

Sir Austen Chamberlain declined to accept a suggestion that the men were not enabled to represent their own cases adequately. He thought Parliamentary authorisation was unnecessary with regard to any adjustments which might be desirable.

From the First Lord, Mr. Alexander, an enquiry by Mr. MacDonald if the revision would now happen over all cuts, evoked the reply that the general rule applied in block cuts by all departments had been that the burden of adjusting such savings was a matter for the department's own internal arrangement.

The Speaker refused an application for leave to adjourn the House to discuss the abandonment of the fleet exercises, and further Labour attempts to keep the discussion going failed.

Normal Routine.

Reports from Invergordon state that all the ships are lying at their customary anchorages and moorings in Cromarty Firth. Drills and duties comprising the daily programme of ships in harbour are being carried out as usual, also routine shore duties such as the collection of mails and stores. No libertymen (ratings who are granted shore leave), however, are allowed to leave the ships.

The number of ships involved is sixteen, including the Hood, the flagship, and the monster battleships Nelson and Rodney.

At Chatham.

Conditions at the Chatham depot are normal. The sailors are allowed the usual leave, and there is no sign of dissatisfaction or trouble. The newspapers with details from Invergordon are being read most eagerly, and the news is evidently

SHANGHAI SERGEANT ARRESTED.

CHARGED WITH AIDING AND ABETTING THEFT.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Sept. 16. Police Sergeant H. J. Connolly was arrested at 4 p.m. on the 16th inst. in his quarters at the Sinza Station and appeared before the British Court this morning.

He was charged with having, on the 1st inst., while in charge of a search party operating on Burkill Road at half past eight in the evening, aided and abetted Chinese Police Constable No. 3217 in robbing Chang Yue-ming of property valued at $7. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded in custody until the 22nd inst.

C.P.C. 3217 was sentenced by the Special District Court this morning to four years for extortion and three years for receiving a bribe, the total of seven years being subsequently reduced to five. Others implicated with him were sentenced to three years imprisonment.

JAPAN'S DELEGATION.

MIL MATSUDAIRA TO LEAD DISARMAMENT ENVOYS.

Tokyo, Sept. 16.

Mr. Matsudaira has been ordered to return to Japan from London prior to heading the Japanese delegation to the Disarmament Conference.

He is expected to leave for Japan shortly, via Siberia—Reuters.

causing considerable surprise in naval circles.

Everything is normal at Portsmouth also, leave being granted as usual, but there is considerable dissatisfaction among the lower ratings.

Refuse Duty.

The Evening News says that protests against the cuts were made at sailors' meetings at Invergordon, and the ratings refused duty yesterday after the usual morning task of cleaning ship. Instead of obeying the signal to weigh anchor, they gave three cheers for the King and sat astride the anchor cables. This happened on all the ships. The men then settled down to entertainments.

This conduct was repeated to-day. Meanwhile the stokers ceased raising steam, and all work has been suspended pending the Admiralty decision, which was expected later in the day.

Men Goodhumoured.

An officer arriving from Invergordon, interviewed by Reuters, said:

"The situation is not serious, but is unprecedented as occurring in the British Navy. The proposed cuts are heavier than for any other Services or the Civil Service, amounting in many cases to 25 per cent. while no other class has been asked to accept cuts of more than 15 per cent."

"All the men are making their protest in a goodhumoured way, which is typical of the Navy. Such action, though unprecedented, is the only way the men can express their feelings. Between the officers and men the feeling is very good, and meanwhile discipline is being maintained."—Reuters.

WRECKAGE PICKED UP BY TRAWLER.

New York Sept. 16.

The British trawler Lord Trent while proceeding to the White Sea, picked up a seaplane wreckage which has been identified as the Bolland monoplane in which Mr. Parker Cramer and his mechanic Paquette were flying to Europe via Greenland, and which disappeared early in August.

It will be recalled that they were engaged in surveying a possible Arctic air route to Europe from America—Reuters's American Service.

Arsenal's Big Victory.

Portsmouth Fail
at Home.

London, Sept. 16.
The Arsenal, who indicated on Saturday that they were getting into their stride, obtained a smashing 3-nil victory over Portsmouth to-day and jump to fourth place in the League table. Everton met with another defeat.

First victories were obtained by Queen's Park Rangers, who beat Swindon at Swindon, avenging themselves for last week's debacle, and Hartlepool, while Gateshead surrendered their unbeaten record at York.

DEATH OF NOTED SCIENTIST.

SIR HOWARD GRUBB PASSES.

London, Sept. 16.
The death is announced of Sir Howard Grubb, who has been scientific adviser to the Commissioners of Irish Lights since 1913. Born in 1844, he was educated privately and at Trinity College, Dublin, and he later established a manufactory in Dublin for astronomical instruments and instruments of precision. He has been for many years contractor to British, Colonial and foreign Governments for the supply of such instruments.

In 1881, he received the Cunningham Gold Medal, while in 1912 he was awarded the Boyle Medal. He was Governor of the Royal Dublin Society, and Deputy Lieutenant for the City of Dublin.—Reuter.

GANDHI UNDER FIRE.

Address to Labour M.P.s.

London, Sept. 16.
Many ex-Ministers and practically all the rank and file of the Labour Party present in the House of Commons, filled a Committee Room to hear Gandhi, who to-night addressed Labour M.P.s. Gandhi explained his aims and reiterated that he wanted independence for India for the sake of the dumb, semi-starved millions of Indians.

He was then kept busy for twenty minutes, answering questions bearing almost entirely upon the industrial situation and the boycott of Lancashire cloth.

In the course of his replies, Gandhi said he was pleading the case of the villagers, from whom the present system was draining the last drop of blood.—Reuter.

ROUND TABLE PROGRESS.

FRIENDLY SPIRIT IN EVIDENCE.

London, Sept. 16.
The Federal Structure Committee of the Round Table Conference held two further meetings to-day.

Having listened to expressions of general views on India's constitutional problem from delegates representing practically all sections of the community, the Committee has now settled down to an examination of the details which have been tabulated by the Chairman, Lord Sankey, under four heads of discussion.

Satisfactory progress has already been made in a friendly and businesslike atmosphere.

To-day's discussions were concerned with the question of direct and indirect methods of election of representatives to the Federal Legislature.—British Wireless.

SINO-MEXICAN SITUATION.

THE POSITION NOW LESS STRAINED.

Nanking, Sept. 16.
In a statement to Press correspondents to-day, Dr. C. T. Wang, Foreign Minister, said the anti-Chinese situation in Mexico was less strained. The Minister, Mr. Samuel Young, was continuing negotiations with Mexican authorities with a view to assuring Chinese residents of the right of residence and the pursuit of lawful activities.—Sino News Service.

GERMAN CHARGED IN SHANGHAI.

VICTOR COMPANY'S EMPLOYEE.

$5,000 INVOLVED.

(Our Own Correspondent).

Shanghai, Sept. 17.
Mr. F. J. Schlager, a German resident of Shanghai, was arraigned before Judge Chow in the district Court, charged with misappropriating approximately $5,000, belonging to the Victor Company.

Schlager was formerly assistant manager of the concern, by whom he was employed for eighteen months.

It was recently discovered, it was alleged, that between May and August he sold musical instruments to the value of about $5,000 and failed to return the proceeds. Accused stated that he intended to return the amount.

A remand for a week was ordered.

U.S. WHEAT FOR CHINA.

LOAN SOON TO BE CONCLUDED.

Nanking, Sept. 17.
Following successful negotiations between Mr. T. V. Soong, the Finance Minister, and the U.S. Consular authorities in Nanking, the Sino-American wheat loan is expected to be concluded shortly. Both parties have expressed their approval of the general scheme, and after an adjustment of questions concerning the transportation of the wheat to China and the period of redemption of the loan, the arrangement will be formally signed at Nanking.

The $30,000,000 Government loan issued by the Legislative Council in the name of the National Government in connexion with Hankow Flood Relief was issued today. The bonds will be distributed to Chinese firms and merchants in accordance with regulations drawn up between the Finance Ministry and the Legislative Council. The revenue on salt, which amounts to over $40,000,000 annually, will be used as security for this loan.—Reuter.

WEATHER REPORT.

CHINA AND THE LEAGUE.
GRATIFIED AT WORLD SYMPATHY.

Nanking, Sept. 16.
Interviewed by Press representatives this morning, Dr. C. T. Wang, Foreign Minister, expressed his gratification at China's election to the Council of the League of Nations, stating that the unanimous vote in her favour was an unmistakable sign of a world-wide sympathetic attitude toward the country. Dr. Wang hoped that with better internal conditions and some revision of the League's regulations, China would soon be able to secure a Permanent Seat in the Council and play a bigger role in the advancement of world cooperation.—Sino News Service.
